SAFE HARBOR INTRODUCES "REAL SUPERHEROES OF SAFE HARBOR" GALA

Safe Harbor is introducing the "Real Superheroes of Safe Harbor" gala to the community. For eight years the annual event was known as the "Real Men of St. Tammany" gala, but this year the competition for the Real Superhero of Safe Harbor title will be open to men and women. The gala provides financial support for the Safe Harbor domestic violence shelter and for the education and prevention of domestic abuse. The 2019 gala will be held Saturday, September 21st at the Northshore Harbor Center in Slidell from 7pm to 11pm.

"This is a serious issue that is not easily spoken about. We hope the Real Superheroes campaign will make it easier for people to start talking about domestic violence and to learn about life-saving services offered by Safe Harbor," said Jessica Karr, Safe Harbor Board of Directors' President. The Real Superhero candidate who raises the most money for Safe Harbor will be voted the Real Superhero of 2019. "I admit it. We buy votes at Safe Harbor," said Karr.

"Safe Harbor provides free, confidential services to survivors of domestic, family, and dating violence 24 hours a day, 365 days a year." said Safe Harbor Executive Director Kim Kirby. "Domestic violence is a crime that shatters lives, destroys families, and devastates communities. It will take the entire community working together to end domestic violence."
